

FIBROID FACT SHEET

Fibroids are incredibly common, affecting 50% of white women and 80% of black women.

Uterine Fibroid Embolization (UFE) is an outpatient procedure that treats fibroids without surgery through a minimally-invasive approach.

UFE has a 90% success rate at eliminating fibroid symptoms, with a 1 week recovery period.

Dr. Slonim has completed more UFE's than any other doctor in Dallas. She performed her first UFE in 1997, the same year the procedure was performed in the United States.

Women are often incorrectly told their only treatment option for fibroids is a hysterectomy.
